1988 Index By Author

Adams, Jim and Rama
The Facility Check-up—Who Needs It, Spring, p. 46.

Bacon, Frank W., and Tai S. Shin, Ph.D.
A Study of Selected Rural Electric Cooperative Mergers During the Period 1962-1984, Fall, p. 13.

Bergland, Bob
Rural America: Policy Alternatives and Strategies, Winter, p. 7 .

Brown, Dan L.
A Distribution Cooperative's Response to Disaster, Summer, p. 25.

Brown, David S.
The Things Obituaries Leave Out, Fall, p. 46.

Brown, Edward
Management Memo: Maladies Which Will Weaken Any Organization, Fall, p. 7.

Carpenter, Richard N.
The Board Room: Cooperative Governance (Part II): Director's Responsibilities, Fall, p. 3.

Carpenter, Richard N.
The Board Room: Cooperative Governance As a Corporation (Part I), Spring, p. 3.

Carpenter, Richard N.
Cooperative Governance, Part III: Director's Protection, Winter, p. 3.

Carter, Lindy Keane
Master That Disaster, Summer, p. 15.

Christy, Ralph D., Ph.D.
Management Memo: The Effects of Regulation on Rural Electric Cooperatives' Rate Levels, Spring, p. 7.

Costas, Phil, and Winston Mukes
Employee Reactions to the Fire, Summer, p. 10.

Doherty, Neil
Is Appraisal a Four-Letter Word?, Spring, p. 25.

Dykinga, Margaret
The Bottom Line: Customer Service, Winter, p. 25 .

Eicher, Dennis R., P.E.
Considerations in the Development of Promotional Rates, Fall, p. 24.

Gioffre, Pat
Disaster Recovery from the Operations Standpoint, Summer, p. 30.

Hoeven, James A., and Edward L. Prill
Valuation of a Rural Electric Cooperative, Winter, p. 20.

Harp, Larry
Sitting and Doing: Developing a Comprehensive Safety Management Program, Fall, p. 40.

Hayter, William D.
Responding to Emergencies in Remote Locations: One Cooperative's Solution, Summer, p. 37.

Isaacson, Judith B.
After Disaster Strikes the Workplace: Dealing with the Psychological Aftermath of an Emergency, Summer, p. 34.

Kapsch, Paul
Rising to Your Level of Incompetence . . . Or the Reluctant Supervisor, Winter, p. 37.

Lane, June B.
Times of Transition: Rural Electric Employees and the Process of Change, (Part II), Spring, p. 29.

Lane, June B.
Times of Transition: Rural Electric Employees and the Process of Change, (Part III), Winter, p. 28.

Lau, Barbara
Decisively Coping with Change, Summer, p. 6.

Lau. Barbara
Reducing Job Stress Through Team Building and Positive Management (Part I), Fall, p. 26.

Lau, Barbara
Reducing Job Stress Through Team Building and Positive Management (Part II), Winter, p. 13.

Layton, Lee, P.E.
Unbundling Electric Service Reliability, Spring, p. 18.

Lehman, Malcolm, Ed. D.
Book Review, Spring, p. 16.
MacVicar, Jamie
How to Manage Creative People, Fall, p. 30.
Mashaw, John
Low Rates: Not a Cooperative Principle?, Spring, p. 38.
Mezoff, Bob and Diane Johns
Dealing with Diversity: Playing with a Mixed Deck, Winter, p. 17.
Nelson, Bob
Organizational Communication when Disaster Strikes, Summer, p. 20.
Palk, Roy M.
An Unwanted Christmas Visitor, Summer, p. 2.
Pence, Richard A.
Regular or Spicy?, Fall, p. 44.
Royal Bank of Canada
The Creative Approach, Winter, p. 39.
Slatt, Vincent P.
Is Diversification in Your Future?, Winter, p. 32.
Yeldell, Joseph
Chemical Hazard Emergency Planning: The Experience in the Nation's Capital, Summer, p. 40.

1988 Index By Subject

Boards of Directors

The Board Room: Cooperative Governance As a Corporation (Part I), by Richard N. Carpenter, Spring, p. 3.

A comprehensive guide to the legal foundations of cooperatives and what some of the ramifications are for day-to-day operations.

The Board Room: Cooperative Governance (Part II): Director's Responsibilities, by Richard N. Carpenter, Fall, p. 3.

A broad-brush primer on the parameters of a rural electric director's responsibilities under the law.

Cooperative Governance, Part III: Directors' Protection, by Richard N. Carpenter, Winter, p. 3.

Legal liability of a board member and how to assure adequate protection.

Book Review

Book Review, by Malcolm Lehman, Spring, p. 16.

A review of New Approaches to Effective Leadership: Cognitive Resources and Organizational Performance, by Fred Diedler and Joseph Garcia.

Change

Times of Transition: Rural Electric Employees and the Process of Change, (Part II), by June B. Lane, Spring, p. 29.

Why we resist changes as individuals and organizations and how rural electric employees may be particularly affected.

Times of Transition: Rural Electric Employees and the Process of Change (Part III), by June B. Lane, Winter, p. 28.

Skills and attributes individuals need to succeed at change and how managers and helping agencies can give an assist.

Decisively Coping with Change, by Barbara Lau, Summer, p. 6.

Positive ideas for coping with change in our lives, whether it comes from a disaster or from some other source.

Creativity

The Creative Approach, by the Royal Bank of Canada, Winter, p. 39.

A new year reminder about this most updated and readily available resource.

Disaster Planning and Recovery

A Distribution Cooperative's Response to Disaster, by Dan L. Brown, Summer, p. 25.

The story of how the fastest-growing system in Missouri reacted to disaster, while keeping pace with an incredible construction schedule.

Master That Disaster, by Lindy Keane Carter, Summer, p. 15.

How to formulate a plan for the protection of your organization's computer records.

Disaster Recovery from the Operations Standpoint, by Pat Gioffre, Summer, p. 30.

Prioritizing needs and managing the reconstruction process after an emergency.

After Disaster Strikes the Workplace: Dealing with the Psychological Aftermath of an Emergency, by Judith B. Isaacson, Summer, p. 34.

How managers can identify and help remedy the psychic shock resulting from crisis.

Responding to Emergencies in Remote Locations: One Cooperative's Solution, by William D. Hayter, Summer, p. 37.

How to prepare instantly accessible directions to remote cooperative facilities.

Decisively Coping with Change, by Barbara Lau, Summer, p. 6.

Positive ideas for coping with change in our lives, whether it comes from a disaster or from some other source.

Employee Reactions to the Fire, by Winston Mukes and Phil Costas, Summer, p. 10.

Two of NRECA's employees remind us that there are personal, as well as physical, losses to be confronted in the wake of disaster.

Organizational Communication When Disaster Strikes, by Bob Nelson, Summer, p. 20.

The importance and "how to" of establishing communication links with the public, the membership, and the employees.

An Unwanted Christmas Visitor, by Roy M. Palk, Summer, p. 2.

NRECA's assistant general manager gives an overview of the recovery efforts following the fire which devastated our national headquarters building.

Chemical Hazard Emergency Planning: The Experience in the Nation's Capital, by Joseph Yeldell, Summer, p. 40.

Compliance requirements for Title III, "The Emergency Planning and Community-Right-to-Know Act."

Diversification

Is Diversification in Your Future?, by Vincent P. Slatt, Winter, p. 32.

Questions to ask about your operation to help decide what services to offer.

Finance

Valuation of a Rural Electric Cooperative, by James A. Hoeven and Edward L. Prill, Winter, p. 20.

Determining which formula to use to properly place a cost on your system.

General Management

Low Rates: Not a Cooperative Principle?, by John Mashaw, Spring, p. 38.

Investing our resources in the right areas may well give better future results than trying to operate the cooperative in the cheapest possible manner.

Hazardous Substances

Chemical Hazard Emergency Planning: The Experience in the Nation's Capital, by Joseph Yeldell, Summer, p. 40.

Compliance requirements for Title III, "The Emergency Planning and Community-Right-to-Know Act."

Health and Wellness

Reducing Job Stress Through Team Building and Positive Management (Part I), by Barbara Lau, Fall, p. 26.

How managers can help lower stress levels among employees.

Reducing Job Stress Through Team Building and Positive Management (Part II), by Barbara Lau, Winter, p. 13.

How to alter management style and structure to help alleviate employee stress at work.

Human Relations

Management Memo: Maladies Which Will Weaken Any Organization, by Edward Brown, Fall, p. 7.

A manager's list of common organizational moral killers and some suggestions for how to remedy them.

Rising to Your Level of Incompetence . . . Or, the Reluctant Supervisor, by Paul Kapsch, Winter, p. 37.

Some alternate thoughts for those managers who believe that "good" employees should always seek promotions.

How to Manage Creative People, by Jamie MacVicar, Fall, p. 30.

Important lessons in setting directions and letting go—for all kinds of people.

Dealing with Diversity: Playing with a Mixed Deck, by Diane Johns and Bob Mezoff, Winter, p. 17.

How to adapt productively to all the new kinds of people we must relate to.

Humor

The Things Obituaries Leave Out, by David S. Brown, Fall, p. 46.

A remarkable bit of writing about life's priorities.

Member/Consumer Relations

The Bottom Line: Customer Service, by Margaret Dykinga, Winter, p. 25.

Establishing a culture of excellence in consumer relations.

Regular or Spicy?, by Richard A. Pence, Fall, p. 44.

Common ground between a pizza parlor and a rural cooperative.

Mergers

A Study of Selected Rural Electric Cooperative Mergers During the Period 1962-1984, by Frank Bacon and Tai S. Shin, Ph.D., Fall, p. 13.

The report of a comprehensive study on what signposts indicate a cooperative which is a viable candidate for merger.

Performance Appraisal

Is Appraisal a Four-Letter Work?, by Neil Doherty, Spring, p. 25.

Why appraisals of the cooperative's key leaders are necessary and how to conduct them in a way that benefits everybody—especially the members.

Physical Plant

The Facility Check-up—Who Needs It?, by Jim and Rama Adams Spring, p. 41.

How a periodic examination of your physical facilities can help avoid costly surprises later.

Rates

Management Memo: The Effects of Regulation on Rural Electric Cooperatives' Rate Levels, by Ralph D. Christy, Ph.D., Spring, p. 7.

The results of an exhaustive analysis of whether government regulation lowers the rates our members pay.

Considerations in the Developmen tof Promotional Rates, by Dennis R. Eicher, P.E., Fall, p. 34.

A caution and a plea for some long-range planning before running blindly to develop promotional rates.

Unbundling Electric Service Reliability, by Lee Layton, P.E., Spring, p. 18.

A thought-provoking article on whether all our members need and want the same level of reliability—and the options and pricing ramifications if the answer is, No.

Rural Issues

Rural America: Policy Alternatives and Strategies, by Bob Bergland, Winter, p. 7.

Challenges of the immediate future for rural Americans and how NRECA seeks to help.

Safety

Responding to Emergencies in Remote Locations: One Cooperative's Solution, by William D. Hayter, Summer, p. 37.

How to prepare instantly accessible directions to remote cooperative facilities.

Sitting and Doing: Developing a Comprehensive Safety Management Program, by Larry Harp, Fall, p. 40.

How to assess your cooperative's safety needs and to formulate an integrated program for achieving safety goals.